REPUBLICAN SENATORS WANT POSTELL'S APPOINTMENT WITHDRAWN.

Gov. Bradley Tells Why The Negro Was Selected For The Position—Pressures Brought to Bear.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 18.—Gov. Bradley was asked by the Times correspondent this morning what about the rumored refusal of the Senate to confirm the appointment of Postell, the negro saloon k-e-per, as steward of the Hopkinsville asylum.

He said: "Officially, I have heard of no such refusal to confirm, though the rumors of which you speak have reached me. I have nothing to do with or to say about what the Senate will do. I can only say that I appointed Postell upon the recommendations of many of the best citizens of that section, and three other white men who were applicants for the same place, withdrew their applications and urged Postell's appointment. He was represented to me as a good citizen and a splendid business man."

"No, I did not know that he was a saloon-keeper, though I have never heard of that being made a barrier to an appointment in any party."

Gov. Bradley wouldn't say what his course would be if the Senate does not confirm the appointment, but he didn't act like he would be heart-broken with disappointment if the rejection came. The Democratic majority of the Senate Committee, to which the nomination was referred, has already decided to report in favor of its rejection.

Since the foregoing interview with Gov. Bradley, we had this morning the Republican Senators and others have taken a "tumble," and they are going to make the Governor withdraw Postell's appointment, if it is possible to do so. They see that most of the Democratic Senators may set back and refuse to vote on the confirmation. Also, there are those who will vote "no" and with the fourteen Republicans make a quorum. Then the vote would stand sixteen Republicans to five Democrats, the appointment will be confirmed; the negro saloon man will be put upon an equal plane with the wife of the unfortunate who can't help the circumstances, and a Republican Governor and sixteen Republican Senators will be wholly and solely responsible for the consummation of the appointment. The only way to prevent this sort of a boomerang of himself and the Republican Senators is for Postell's appointment to be withdrawn, and look out for this to be done.

SENATORIAL ELECTION POSTPONED.

Godfrey Hunter Has to Yield a Point in His Victorious Fight.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 18.—An agreement has been informally reached by which there will be no election of a United States Senator until after the election and qualification of the late Isaac Wilson's successor, which can not be until after February 1.

The Republicans realize that the six men who constitute the Democratic Steering Committee and their able assistants have them by the throat ready to throttle any attempt to seize a senatorial seat by other than fair methods, and late this afternoon they acceded to the proposition which had been made.

The present status of affairs was brought about through the efforts of the Senate Steering Committee, composed of Messrs. Goebel, Stevenson, Salyer, Fulton, Bronston and Weisinger, and a few honest Republican leaders who are more representative of the will of the people than they are of party. Prominent among them are Senators Petree, Bennett and Stege and representatives Landes and Burnam.

Garrett-Gregory Marriage.
OAK GROVE, Jan. 18.—Mr. Ed. H. Garrott, a prosperous young farmer of near here, was married to Miss Cora Gregory, one of Howell's most accomplished and beautiful young ladies, at Hotel Latham, Tuesday, Jan. 14. After the ceremony they left immediately for their home near Elizabethtown, where they will reside in the future.

Ed is a jolly and good-natured fellow and is a general favorite with all who know him. His wife will be greatly missed in South Christian society, where she was so popular, and is to be congratulated on winning such a lovely one for his life's companion.

They received many beautiful and costly presents.

May their future be bright and happy.

DOWN IN DIXIE.

The National Editorial Association at St. Augustine To-day.

(Editorial Correspondence.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Jan. 18.—At 9 o'clock this morning the National Editorial Association or that part of it from the western states, has just put in an hour eating breakfast and started out over the Plant system for Florida.

The editor of the Kentuckian, traveling in two volumes, boarded the special train at Hopkinsville at 6 o'clock Friday night. It was made up of eight cars and about 210 persons were on board. This number has by this morning been increased to about 250. The Kentucky delegation in the Missouri car and very pleasantly situated with a jolly party. Kentucky is represented by G. R. Rosser, of Mayville, H. A. Somers, of Elizabethton, and Chas. M. Meacham and wife, of Hopkinsville. L. A. Gaines, of Elizabethtown, will join the party next Tuesday. The other delegate, W. P. Walton, of Stanford, has not been heard from and was probably unable to come. We are hoping, however, that he may show up before the meeting is over.

As stated above, the start from Hopkinsville was made on Friday. This fact in itself was not a reassuring circumstance and when we found that we had been assigned to section No. 13 there was open rebellion on the part of the superstitious member of the Kentuckian's representation. Secretary J. M. Page, who took us in charge as soon as we boarded the train, was appealed to and changed us to No. 14. Col. Rosser, the gallant old bachelor from Mayville, generously agreed to exchange sections and take whatever risk was attached to the unlucky number. By-the-way the jolly old colonel is the life of our party. He already knows everybody in our car and is having more fun than anybody.

The first stop was made at Nashville. Here the crowd took supper. No incident worthy of note occurred except that one lady got lost. We did not learn her name. She was not in our car. An all night run brought us to Montgomery at 8 o'clock. After breakfasting at the depot we had half an hour to spare, which we utilized in taking a stroll up town. Montgomery is a considerable city, with broad, well paved streets and handsome business houses with broad wooden awnings extending the full length of the squares, high above the pavements. A rain came up just as we left and we did not see the city under the most favorable circumstances. At this writing we are speeding through Southern Alabama, a desolate looking country, with nothing but occasional forests of scrubby pines and little villages along the railroad to break the monotony that wears the eye. Our next meal will be at Thomasville, Ga., after we cross the Chattahoochee river.

PINECAMP, ALA., Jan. 18.—It is now 2 o'clock p.m. and we are 104 miles from the dinner station. We have been nearly five hours making 107 miles over a rough road. At this place we stopped for some unknown reason for half an hour and there was a grand rush upon the only store for something to eat. The small stock of cakes, apples and oranges that we had were soon sold. A bar keeper closed his door and then the bar-keeper locked up his saloon and rushed, hatchet in hand and bareheaded, to the depot. There he found a fresh barrel opened and several editors assisted him in knocking out the head. In five minutes the barrel was sold and enough money left in the box to start a boom in all lines of trade.

By applying a little mathematics to the speed of the train and the distance to Thomasville it figures that the next meal will be a sort of cross between dinner and supper at about 5 o'clock. However, the Kentuckian erred here in that he provided with a lunch that answered all the purposes of a dinner. We will cross the Chattahoochee river and get into Georgia in a few minutes and the next place we will make a stop at is Thomasville, Ga. The camp is 344 miles from that place, which we expected to reach for breakfast-morrow morning. As it is we will get there to dinner. Remaining there till Monday night we will run up to St. Augustine 250 miles, by Tuesday morning.

Wednesday we will go to the N. W. corner of the state and CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Another One Captured—Broke Up in a Row—Sam Jones in Town—Horrible Death—Seriously Hurt—Drummer Gets Gay.

Will Open the Bridge.

The case of the Clarksville & Russellville Turnpike Co. vs. Clarksville and Montgomery County, decided in the Court of Chancery Appeals Saturday, in Nashville, is of great importance to Clarksville and Montgomery County. The town, county and several prominent citizens each put in $3,333 and built a free bridge across Red River. The turnpike company, the up-river and lower Red River bridges, owned by the city and the others by the turnpike company, which are both toll bridges. The county court opened a road northwardly running into the new bridge. The turnpike company enjoined them from opening the bridge on the ground that it was a "public highway." The Chancellor granted the injunction but the Court of Appeals reversed the Chancellor and dismissed the bill of the turnpike company. The bridge has been closed eighteen months.

Another One Captured.

Mathew Franklin, another alleged member of the Howton mob, of Caldwell, was captured at Charleston, Mo., last week, and is now in jail at Princeton. He arrived in Charleston some time in November and went under the name of Ashley. Sheriff Groome, of Princeton, was informed a "gang" had been captured and immediately telephoned his arrest. Franklin is the fifth man who has been arrested and held for this crime. He was a witness in the trial of Witherspoon and professed the densest ignorance about the case, though in the testimony seemed to show that he was one of the gang himself.

The grand jury indicted him and he at once left the country and was not heard of until Sheriff Groome was informed of his whereabouts.

Little Duties Wed.

Miss Susie Thomas, the bright little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Thomas, entertained a party of her little school mates at her home on Ninth street Saturday evening in honor of her doll, which was married that afternoon at 3 o'clock to Miss Iles Tibbs' doll. Miss Ruth Dietrich dell being best man and Miss Katherine Faxon's doll being the maid of honor. Miss Virgie Nourse said the party was a success and "a grand affair, after which the little folks had a good time general. There was a host of bright little dolls to witness the marriage.

One Farmer Shoots Another.

Jim Davis, a half-witted farmer, shot and wounded John Jackson Friday morning at the former's place in Princeton. Davis had a mortgage on Davis' place which was foreclosed two months ago. The boy is said to be the cause of the shooting.

Shot Up in Row.

CROFTON, Ky., Jan. 18.—A few nights since a dance was given at the home of Mr. Wm. Sizeron, about two miles west of Crofton. Some of the young men present, it seems, had partaken too freely of red liquor and were very noisy and rowdy, and as a result, Fal Long and Henry Size more became involved in a difficulty, which resulted in a general fight. No one was seriously hurt, but the boys appeared before Esq. Collins today to receive their sentence for what they had done. They were prosecuted by County Attorney Anderson and defended by Attorney W. B. Brown of this place.

Sam Jones in Town.

Rev. Sam Jones passed through the city yesterday morning en route home from St. Louis. He preached in the Lafayette Park Methodist church, St. Louis, Sunday morning and left the same afternoon. He was dropped into St. Louis and termed a "resting trip" to get well trim to resume his duties on his tour in Georgia."

Marietta to Avoid Imprisonment.

Walter Alexander and Elvira King were married by Judge Breathitt Friday. Alexander, who is only 17 years old, was charged with seducing the King woman, under the promise of marriage. After his arrest he agreed to marry her and should be tried as soon as the coroner's inquest should find Alexander disappeared, and it is said that he left his bride in the city. Both were colored.

Child's Terrible Death.

A little child of John W. Parrott was burned to death at Dunleay, a few miles west of Princeton, Thursday. It went into a smoke house alone and its clothing caught on fire. It was dead when discovered by its mother. Nearly all the flesh was burned from its bones.

CLARKSVILLE'S ELECTION.

Eight of the Nine Aldermen Chosen are Democrats.

In the municipal election held in Clarksville Saturday the Democrats carried all the wards except the Ninth, which is largely colored, and Republican. This ward has been represented by a negro in the City Council for several years. Dr. Carney was re-elected Mayor by a majority of 303 over Maj. Brandon, Republican. The members of the old Board of Aldermen re-elected were; John Nubbett, H. E. Gilbert, John H. Pettus, Jas. H. Smith, W. B. Young, J. W. Page, col. and Dr. Marable. A special ballot was had to ascertain sentiment on the free bridge question, that is for low Red River bridge. Every ward voted for freeing, the total majority was 1,000. The new aldermen elected were John Elder, Dr. Boyd and J. G. Pickering.

Another Drummer Gets Gay.

T. C. Leahy, who registered from New York at Hotel Latham, a few evenings ago, fractured the pence to the extent of $2. Leahy fell up on liquor and going into the dining room assaulted a waiter and drew a pistol. A police officer, a young man, before the police judge, who assessed a fine of $25. Defendant became enraged at the action of the court and made such uncomplimentary remarks about "the testimony" that an additional fine of $5, for contempt of court, was added to the first item. The total fine necessary cash and left minus $32 expense money.

Ordered Out of the City.

Hettie McKee, Mattie McReynolds and Lee McKee, all colored, who had been serving a jail sentence for keeping a public house, were released from custody Friday. Soon afterwards they became so boisterous and disorderly that they had to be removed from the city. Sheriff Gandy, however, sentenced them to jail for a year. They were then given the choice of serving their long sentences or leaving the city permanently. They chose the latter, and were escorted to the city limits by officers and were told to go and stay.

Caught the Wrong Man.

Sam Booker, col., who was captured at Hecla Mines, Earlington, by officers from Providence, charge with attempting to assault Miss Stoll on the L. & N. road near Providence, proved to be the wrong man. He was taken to Providence and held for trial. Judge Hembury sentenced him to jail for a year. They were then given the choice of serving their long sentences or leaving the city permanently. They chose the latter, and were escorted to the city limits by officers and were told to go and stay.

Judge McCullough Seriously Hurt.

Jack McCullough, aged 15 years, a son of Mr. James E. McCullough, who lives a few miles North of the city, met with a painful accident last Wednesday. He was riding a mule when an animal struck him in a hole. Fall. Young McCullough was thrown and one of his legs was broken. It was at first thought that he had sustained internal injuries, but this proved to be untrue and he is now getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

Judge Grace's Opinion.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 18.—The court of appeals this morning reversed the life sentence to Jesse Fields and Jo Atkins, of Perry County, who were sentenced for the murder of County Judge Combs. Judge Grace wrote the opinion of the court, and the verdict was reversed on the ground that the lower court did not award proper process for witnesses. The case goes back to the lower court and a new trial has been ordered.

Good for a Husband.

Mr. Arthur Beeny, living just over the line in Hopkins county, is 93 years old and engages in outdoor work nearly every day. He is not compelled to do this, but does it as a matter of choice. He is the oldest citizen of Hopkins county, and is still vigorous. Mr. Beeny was born in North Carolina, but came to Kentucky while he was a young man.

Trown From His Milk Wagon.

As Mr. Clemens Uster was coming into the city Sunday morning driving his milk wagon, his horse became detached from the vehicle throwing Mr. Uster out upon the pike. He fell on his head and was badly cut about the face and scalp, rendering him unconscious for a few minutes. Peter Torian, col., who was also in the vehicle, who was driving, and suffered several bad bruises and the dislocation of two of his fingers.

Citizens at Hazel, in Calloway county who listed this property at $35, were raised to $135 by the Board of Supervisors.

Our Gents Furnishing Department contains all that is new and desirable in Underwear, White and fancy Shirts, Collars, Cuffs, Ties, Hosiery, Suspenders, Gloves, &c. We intend to make this one of our special departments, where you can find at all times what you want and at satisfactory prices.

Fancy Dress Patterns.

25 fancy dress patterns this season's goods and in order to close, and to make this sale more interesting we shall offer at prime New York cost. Many of these can be worn till early summer and are choice patterns.

Carpet Department.

Our carpet department contains everything choice and desirable in Moquette, Body, Tapestry and Ingrain Carpets, Rugs, Oil Cloth, Linoleums, Mattings, etc. We have moved them on the first floor in our new addition room and this is we know good news to our lady friends, for when you want a carpet you don't have to climb a long flight of stairs for it.

Our Shoe Department.

Will be found in our new room, and we beg to say to our friends in all candor, that we believe that we can offer them as good shoes as can be found in the State. We handle all the new lasts, widths, style toes and at all prices, we ask your inspection. Our Celebrated 20th Century Ladies Shoes have been the admiration of all who have seen them, and our line of Gents Shoes, and Children's School Shoes cannot be excelled.

Our steadily increasing trade in Shoes, necessitated the removal of them into another room.

To the Public:

The Removal of our Shoes, Carpets and Gent's Furnishings into our " Annex Building" gives us the largest floor and shop space ever given to a Dry Goods business in Hopkinsville, and our annual Stock Taking has brought out the fact that in some lines we are stocked too heavily at this season of the year. We shall, therefore, offer from now until February 1st, SWEEPING REDUCTIONS on the articles mentioned. In some instances, less than cost price, we can't wait to carry them over until another season. We are confident in the maxim that "the first loss is the cheapest" and that a reproduction of goods carried from season to season and offered to the Trade places the merchant in the attitude of being far behind the march of modern and business-like merchandising.

We propose to give to our friends the privilege to buy "any" that which they need, high prices for bidding, rather than sticking to the old time way of "putting a price on them and keeping them until you get your price."

Read carefully, therefore, what we have to say elsewhere on this page. Visit us in our enlarged quarters for the next 15 days and we promise to save you money.

Thanking our friends for their liberal support, which has made it possible for us to double our capacity to serve the trade, and soliciting a liberal share in the future, which shall be gratefully appreciated, we beg to remain, Yours very truly,

Richards & Co.

The Democrats at Frankfort, for the present at least, are masters of the situation. By assuming the aggressive and showing the Republicans that they would fight them at their own game, they have brought the enemy to a halt. In the Senate on the Democratic side there are some of the greatest and most eagle-eyed political managers in the state, and the Radicals have few, if any, to catch them.

Pugilist Corbett has given out that he will again appear in the prize ring, but the proof is that he has taken up another line of sport. He has just purchased of Gideon & Daly, of Holmdel, N. J., four blooded horses, which will form the nucleus of a racing stable that he is about to establish at Morris' Park race track in New York.

The United States pays $900,000 a year for its weather service; Great Britain, $80,000; Germany, $56,000; Russia, $65,000; Austria, $10,000; Switzerland, $6,000, and France $70,000. Notwithstanding this enormous outlay here, it is said that the weather in the countries mentioned is far more agreeable than that which we are accustomed to.

The date for hearing the contested railroad commissionership race of Porter vs. Dempsey has been set by the contest board for February 11. The members of the board are five, and include the governor, the secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney general. Depositions have already been taken in a number of counties of the district.

The argument in the case of the Commonwealth of Kentucky against the L. & N. railroad was heard last week in the United States Supreme Court at Washington, and an early decision is now looked for to settle the point as to whether the Illinois Central or the L. & N. will have control and ownership of the C. O. & S. W. railroad.

By Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Since the year 1879, I have not known what it was to see a well day. I have doctor'd a great many, and the physicians claim that my tonic drug cures all sorts of diseases, and others called it kidney trouble. I paid out a great deal of money for doctor bills and swallowed a great many different drugs, but none of the medicines which I took accomplished a cure. I was presented by a friend to try hood's Hood's Pill, and I was well satisfied with them. I thank you."

Determined to Try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

After I had taken four bottles of this medicine, I was feeling as well as I ever did in my life. If Hood's Sarsaparilla cost $5 a bottle, I would not be without it. A friend of mine who suffered with constant pain in the back and dizzy, and who also had trouble in his hands and body, began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after using one bottle the sores healed. I always speak highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and regard it as a wonderful medicine." O. P. ROBERTS, Hadenville, Ky.

CROSSED THE DEAD LINE.

State Senator's Experience with Tennessee Moonshiners.

An unusual resort of outlawy comes from the Red Sulphur Springs district of Hardin county. This is a notorious resort for moonshiners, and they have made a creek there the dead line for revenue officers. Some two weeks ago a raiding party slipped into the district and destroyed a still, capturing three men, one named Davis, wanted at Memphis for murdering a deputy marshal and wounding United States Marshal Brown.

A few days ago State Senator Sims, of Lawrence county, and a man named J. H. Parker went to Hardin county on legal business. They unwittingly entered the Red Sulphur district and were near where the still was destroyed, when they were suddenly confronted by six men, armed with guns, who, taking them prisoners, marched them to a canebrake, where they began preparations to hang them.

Senator Sims pleaded with them that they were not revenue officers. The men finally consented to delay the execution a few hours to give Sims an opportunity to establish his identity. He gave one of the men a dollar bill and told him to go to town and bring a merchant whom he knew. After five hours the man came and identified Sims. The outlaws then took the two men to the Tennessee river, and, placing them on a barge, started them across it, telling them that if they ever came back they would hang them without any questions, and any revenue men invading the district would meet the same fate.—Nashville (Tenn.) IT WAS TRUE.

A New England Schoolboy Answers a Question in Fractions.

Bright children at school are in great danger sometimes of passing over the border line of mathematics into the forbidden domain of common sense. It is recorded that the teacher in a New England school once said to her class in mental arithmetic: "Young boy, I have some few questions in fractions to ask. Suppose I have a piece of beefsteak, and cut it into two pieces. What would those pieces be called?"

"Halves!" shouted the class.

"Right. And, if I cut each half in two pieces?"

"Quarters!"

"That is correct. And if the quarters were each cut in half?"

"Eighths!"

"Yes. And if those were chopped in two?"

"Sixteenths!"

"Very good. And when the sixteenths were cut in half, what would they be?"

The answers had been growing faint and fewer, but one boy maintained his moment, and answered:

"Thirty-second!"

"Very good," said the teacher. "And now we will chop those thirty-second in half. Can any boy tell what we have now?"

There was silence in the class, but presently a little boy at the foot put up his hand.

"Do you know, Johnny? Well, you may tell me."

"Hash!" answered Johnny, confidently—and truly. "Youth."

RIPPING A GARTMENT.

The Task Appears Easier Than It Is—A Possible Employment.

There is a general impression that it is an easy enough matter to rip up a garment. Most anybody can do it, and it is an undertaking that requires no special skill or care. Acting on this idea, clothing is pulled, torn, cut with knives, snipped with scissors and finally taken to pieces after this unprofitable fashion, and the operator comes and declares that everything is ready. A dyer who handles a large quantity of black goods says that he long ago gave up the idea of somebody to rip a garment up as it should be done. If the seams are ripped, they are full of threads; sometimes there are buttons on; hooks and eyes are not uncommon; the front of them are stuck full of pins of various sorts, and linings, facings, braids and the like remain, in whole and in pieces, just as the individual who had charge of the disintegrating process happens to leave them.

To rip up a garment properly there should be no pulling, tearing or dragging apart. If one cannot take the end of the thread and pull it out, the stitches should be cut with a sharp knife. Very few persons can rip a garment with scissors without doing it great harm; indeed, many find it impossible to cut stitches with anything without making holes that render the goods absolutely worthless for any one who would wear it.

When it is necessary to do this, it is a good idea to use a sharp pattern. If that is much smaller pattern must be used. In preparing goods for the dyer, or to be made over, every stitch should be taken out. It seems scarcely necessary to say that facing, braid and hooks and eyes must be removed, but this is imperative, in view of the condition in which garments come to the dressmaker and the dyer. Many dresses, capes and jackets are perfectly wearable after being carefully ripped, brushed, sponged and pressed. It is a wonder that some one does not set up an establishment for ripping clothes and putting them in order for the dressmaker. The owner of them frequently has not time to do them properly, or is too careless and understands to do it had she all the time in the world. Some invalids in every community might get a tolerable living, or at least add to a limited income, by preparing garments for remodeling—N. Y.

SOME ANCIENT FAT.

Adipose That Accumulated Thousands of Years Ago.

Valuable Scientific Find Made by Dr. Dall
of the Smithsonian Institute—Facts
About the Mammal of Early Centuries.

Dr. Dall, of the Smithsonian institution, during his recent visit to Alaska secured a natural history specimen that was a prize, indeed, says the Washington Evening Star. It was a bit of mammoth fat from the actual adipose tissue of an animal that had been dead for tens of thousands of years.

Bodies of mammoths in a fresh state have been dug up from time to time in Arctic Siberia, preserved in natural cold storage since a period probably antedating the first appearance of man on the earth. That is an old story; but this is the first known instance in which the soft parts of a beast of this species have been found on the American continent. It is easy to imagine the scientific interest attaching to the discovery.

Agés ago this mammoth died, under such circumstances that its corpus was buried in mud. At about that time there was a great and permanent change in the temperature of circumpolar regions. The climate had been sub-tropical; it suddenly became frigid. The mammoths were literally "frozen out" the last of the species perishing of cold. This particular individual, frozen in a bank of clay, had every prospect of "keeping" for an indefinite period.

Hundreds of centuries later a stream flowing through an Alaskan valley tackled the clay bank referred to and washed away the topsoil. At depth, some big bones stuck out, and a native of exceptional courage dug out one or two of them. This required more of that equality known in civilized countries as "nerve" than might be imagined, for strange monsters, however long they may have been dead, are regarded with superstitious awe by savages.

However, the natives finally summoned courage enough to drag the remains of the mammoth out of the clay bank piecemeal. The body of the animal had been preserved so well that a fairly perfect cast of it was found in the matrix. A quantity of fat, which overlay the intestines, was obtained, and was used for greasing boats. Dr. Dall secured a piece of it and fitted it back to Washington.

In the office of Osteologist Frederick A. Lusk, at the National Museum, is a mammoth's molar tooth, which a child's step is attached. It was got from a spring at Paseo Verde, in the country of the Parago Indians. Ever so many centuries ago a mammoth in its dying agonies sought that spring for water and fell into it, too weak to climb out. There its bones remain to this day, and the Indians believe that if they were removed the spring would dry up. Of course, such an event in that region means the destruction of a village.

Mastodon bones, of course, are frequently dug up in the United States. The mastodon was a kind of elephant, but it did not belong to the genus elephants. The mammoth did not belong to that genus, being known to modern science as elephas primigenius. It often happens that farmers plow up the ossuary remains of mastodons, particularly in reclaimed swamps, where anciently the gigantic beasts became mired and died from sheer helplessness to get out. The tusks are commonly found so far decomposed that the ivory crumbles between the fingers.

The first mastodon ever dug up was found in 613. The remains of mastodons are by no means confined to the United States; they are discovered all over the world, in Europe, Asia, and Asia Minor. They are much thicker set than the modern elephant. The lower jaw bone of the full-grown specimen weighs nearly 100 pounds. The first mastodon bones that were dug up were supposed to be those of giants of an earlier epoch.

Facial Expressions.

Don't roll your eyes up into your head as if they were marbles. A fine pair of eyes will be utterly ruined by this operation. The girl with a pretty mouth will purse it up into the prettiest bouton and continue the habit until many lines form about the lips and the lovely mouth has to be put into the hands of a beauty doctor.

Nearly every woman bites and sucks her lips. Others contract the brows and produce two furrows between the eyes. Others perpetually wear a tip-tilted nose. The true expression of a face doesn't consist of a set of features hung on strings or wires. Do cultivate placid features. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
